WRMC-FM's STATION DEDICATION

On Saturday morning, March 16, WRMC-FM's president John Taylor, announced the dedication of the studios to Mr. John Bowker, Class of '52, who founded WRMC's campus AM programming during his undergraduate years. He helped with the formalities of obtaining WRMC's FM licence. Taylor spoke to an audience of fifty including Mr. Bowker, members of the college administration, the WRMC-FM staff and some who were just interested friends. After the 10 o'clock ceremony in Proctor Lounge, there was an open house to which the guests were invited to observe the station's operation. WRMC aired special all-day programming that day and held an open house for the public in the afternoon.

JAZZ ON WRMC-FM

On Sunday, Arnold Mckinney starts off the jazz week from three to five in the afternoon. Then on Monday Kevin Dunn's Nightime Street show, from 11 to 1AM, continues the jazz pro-programming, followed by Rick Dostie's 'Round Midnight program in the same time slot on Wednesday night. All three play the best in jazz and have a wealth of background knowledge on their subject. Rick Dostie is especially qualified to speak on the subjectof jazz, being a professional jazz pianist himself.. Between his fantastic knowledge of the music and of the musicians and his unique Maine accent, Rick Dostie airs an interesting and informative show. Jazz buffs will be most satisfied with WRMC-FM's three all-jazz shows with music ranging from the traditional to the modern.
